WARD'S

Patent Grapple.

THIS GRAPPLE WAS INVENTED BY

Moses N. Ward,

OF BANGOR,

And was patented December 8th, 1868.

IN STRENGTH, SIMPLICITY, and FACILITY OF USE it is far superior to any thing of the kind ever brought out.

It is worth half its price in addition to every ton of ballast to which it is sought to be applied, taking a medium ship of 1000 tons, burden, and takes with equal readiness.

No Mill, no Vessel, no Store nor Store House, should be without it.

It is indispensable to every ship builder, and every ship owner and builder. In fact there is not a valuable wharf where there are heavy objects to be grappled, but what I and more I will be found.

Persons interested in the use of the Grapple, are invited to call and examine those now in use at the store of the manufacturers.

—Last year two thirty Germans purchased eighty acres of land in Southern Tennessee. This season they gathered strawberries enough from four acres of it to pay for the whole tract.

—There are vast spaces bordering on the Rocky Mountains, where the foot of civilized man has never trod, and there is every reason to believe that much that is wonderful and interesting remains to be discovered. No doubt of it.

Republican State Committee.

We have repeatedly had occasion to congratulate ourselves upon the strength and unity of the Republican party. We believe now, notwithstanding the apparent zeal with which gaping Democrats claim that we are going to divide and allow them to step in to take command of the State, that our prospects are improving. The Democracy have frequently defeated us before election, but we usually fill uppermost when the round is ended. Unless we are very much deceived, we shall follow up the unending series of victories this year by another emphatic popular indorsement of Republican principles. Knowing its own strength and the momentousness of its principles, the Republican party will go into the contest sure to ratify its two fundamental principles—peace and reconstruction, under the liberal enactments of Congress, and the enforcement of the liquor law, equally with all others. We shall settle all our differences in the Convention in this city on the 24th inst. as we have ever settled them before. The thorough discussion which the various questions before us have received, has rather helped to reconcile differences, and we can not doubt that the judgment of the Convention will be the judgment of the people. From all parts of the State we have reports that however violent the feeling indulged relative to individuals or measures, it is only primary, and that finally they will rally as ever to sustain the organization only which has conducted in safety our fortunes for the coming years. The attitude of the South and the cause of temperance alike warn us that this is the only true course. The people feel that the example of Maine must not be lost to the country.

The Democrats all over the country are expressing themselves as in want of Republican votes, to which there seems no valid objection. They lead off in Indiana with the invitation to disappointed Republicans, or any other men who have any fault to find, with anybody or anything labelled Republican, to join them in changing the usual course of victory, promising them full amnesty and pardon for all past offences. We haven't yet decided in doubt the existence of human depravity to such extent, and so they may entice a few tractable people to think they believe in Democratic ideas.—Whether the new dispensation will creep through the hard shell of the Maine Democracy we cannot now predict, but it appears scarcely possible that even for hope of success such liberality can penetrate the rust that encrusts their vision.

The condition of the national debt is most gratifying to all who feel an interest in the welfare of the country. The debt in excess of the cash and bonds in the Treasury, including accrued interest in part but not including loans to aid the railway companies, was as follows:

On April 1	$2,625,199,461 14
On May 1	2,618,797,391 09
On June 1	2,605,412,613 12
Diminution—May 1	6,396,070 05
Diminution—June 1	13,384,777 97

This diminution is not merely apparent; not a mere fluctuation of accounts, resulting from the varying amounts of interest due to bondholders, as in the equally favorable statements sometimes given by Mr McCulloch. It is a real increase of strength in the Treasury, after making allowance for all the adjusted claims outstanding. The debt of the nation has been actually reduced almost twenty millions in two months, a rate which would extinguish the entire debt in a little less than thirteen years, or which, if the revenues of the nation were diminished by the remission of taxes to the amount of seven millions of dollars every year, would still extinguish the entire debt in twenty-one years.

The Portland Press notices that the antediluvian organ of Bangor Democracy has awakened sufficiently to see a nigger in the woodpile. We note the fact as indicative that even these far away observe the brilliant progressive tendencies of that optimo of Roman history. But the Press is mistaken in supposing that this is a new planet discovered by our neighbor, for in his eye the "nigger" is a fixed and unexplainable star.

To the Editor of the Daily Whig:

What do those who call themselves radical temperance men want? Do they desire to, promote the cause of temperance, to limit, if they cannot suppress the sale of intoxicating drinks? or do they insist upon having absolute, practical prohibition, or nothing? Are they so impractical or unpractical as to be unwilling to accept the best thing attainable, rather than what they deem the best thing? Is not the law sufficiently stringent?

In almost every town in the State there is an organized temperance force, all presumed to be interested in the enforcement of the law. No such organization exists for any other purpose. Are there a half dozen towns, or half that number, where, if these professed organized friends of temperance should make an earnest, determined effort to enforce the law, there would be any serious difficulty in effecting it? If they neglect what they will not deem is their duty in this respect, why should they complain of others? May not a special police for this object, when they know that the entire Democratic party is opposed to it and that at least one half the Republicans do not favor it? Why endanger what they have got by insisting upon what is apparently unattainable?

An honest answer to these questions would gratify a decided but not very radical

REPUBLICAN.

The Water Question.

To the Editor of the Daily Whig:

Your correspondent "C." seems to reason from misstatements and assumptions. He states that the committee of the city government estimate the cost of insurance for our property holders is about $50,000 annually, of which $40,000 is to be saved by the introduction of water. Odd would it be, so ridiculous a figuring came from the mistake of the printer were it not that the writer states it twice in his article and attempts a reason upon it. If he will read the report he will find that they estimate a saving of $20,000 for which the city pays at present $3000. There is a slight difference between $20,000 and $40,000.

As to the objection that the farmers in the suburbs should not pay for such conveniences, we may inquire if those residents in the outskirts of all cities do not pay to maintain for the police, sidewalks, sewers, sprinklers, engines, &c., and receive benefits in return? Why are their farms worth more than those twenty miles away and why do they obtain such profits from their gardens, dairies and orchards but from the fact that they are near a great centre? And do they derive no benefits from our schools, when the citizens of neighboring towns are constantly applying for permission for their children to attend our schools without the expense of paying their board? In the movement of a novel measure that requires a great majority of the citizens to give comfort and health to the wishes of a small minority, who live in the suburbs and enjoy the advantages arising from the markets, stores and other attractions of the city?

"C." assumes that the works will cost a million of dollars, which assumption he takes as a basis for argument. He intimates as well as that they will cost twenty millions, for he does not pretend to have any basis of knowledge in reference to the matter. Some shrewd business men in Boston assert they can be built for $300,000 and will make somebody rich. Between these are the parties in Massachusetts who have built several such works and estimated the cost at $600,000 for which sum they agree to construct them.

"C." then assumes that the Company pay from the city in advance for five years supply of water, at $20,000 per year, harps upon this city being involved to $100,000. The Company only ask the city to subscribe, like any private individual, for a full supply of the water, annually, and conditions which will stop the payment of this item the country is not met. On these conditions is a full supply for all needed purposes. If the water fails, the city is not bound to pay. Another condition is the furnishing of fifty hydrants, each of which shall be equal to a steamer. If they do so prove, the city will not pay. The writer labors to make the impression that instead of the annual payment of $20,000 by the city after it has received the equivalent, the Company demand $100,000 and pledged for the city, without conditions and in advance. The truth is, the Company only wish the city to pay for water as for gas or any other article of consumption, after it has been used.

As to the statement about the necessity of engines and a fire department, the letter of the Mayor of Salem, in the same paper, is more than an answer. The statement that those who use the water will be compelled to use the same precaution they now do with their pumps and pipes. But does water will freeze at the same temperature that water from the splendid springs in the vicinity of Bangor will freeze. Most water freezes in the winter unless it is properly attended to, but will not a waste-pipe in the cellar draw all the water from the pipes during a night, and secure safety?

As to the expense of piping houses, it will be about the same as for other water, and can be used from a single pipe or from many as those who use it may wish. It is estimated that it will cost about the same to pipe a house for this water that it would for water from the private "unfailing springs" so valuable for the use of the city, in the estimation of "C."

"C." makes another point, on speculation, first asserting that the works will cost nearly twice what the contractors are willing to undertake the job for, and then asserting that they are to speculate out of it. Is this the kind of arithmetic which he says our citizens have been fed on for years past?

Many of your readers desire to know how large a portion of the burdensome taxes of which "C." complains, he has been accustomed to pay, and what prospective interest he has in the springs and the proposed aqueduct which are to furnish Bangor with "never failing supply of water" for which a charter was obtained last year. Those who know say that a pipe one inch and a quarter in diameter will drain said springs long before the frosts of winter will affect the pipes.

THE CASE POND WATER.

THE VIRGINIA ELECTION. The Boston Journal's Washington dispatch says Gen. Canby, commanding the First Military District, has issued an elaborate order prescribing the rules which are to govern the registration and election in Virginia, and if the orders are carried out the elections cannot be otherwise than fair on all sides. The sales of intoxicating liquors and the carrying of deadly weapons on that day are forbidden under the penalty of trial by Military Commission. Money while the canvass waxes warm and the press of the entire State urges the necessity of a full registration of voters. Upon the subject of voting there is much division of opinion among the conservatives as to whether they should vote against the constitution or only against those clauses which are to be submitted to a separate vote, and this division of sentiment is all favorable to the Republicans, and it would not be surprising if the result was the adoption of the constitution entire.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE. The grand division Sons of Temperance of the Washington jurisdiction, has perfected its arrangements for the appropriate reception and entertainment of the National Division which meets there on Wednesday. The formal reception will take place on Wednesday evening at the Congregational Church. General O. O. Howard will introduce the National Division to the Grand Division of the District of Columbia, and the address of welcome will be made by the Grand Worthy Patriarch of the district. General Neal Dow of Maine will also deliver an address during the evening.

Richard H. Dana has withdrawn his suit against the City Government of Cambridge for omitting his name from the voting list last August. Dana says, in speaking of the reasons that led to the bringing on of the suit, "I felt it my duty, and perhaps it still is, to represent in my person an invaluable right trifled with, but I doubt, if under the circumstances, the case will be of much public value in the shape it may present itself, and I avail myself of this doubt to secure peace and relief from a suit, which would be an anxious and distasteful contest."

Another Eastern Democrat is spoken for the Democratic nomination—Thomas A. Hughes, late Collector at Machias. His requisite unobjectionable is that he has so recently had his head [illegible] one of McCulloch's Treasury [illegible]. And yet there is room!

UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE MOVEMENTS. The Universal Franchise Association purpose to play a prominent part in the politics of Washington. Having failed to secure the elective franchise for women this year, that society has added to the following questions to each candidate for office on Monday next:

1st. Will you, if elected, use your influence to induce Congress to enfranchise the women of the District?

2nd. Will you, if elected, use your influence to procure to women a fair share of official patronage?

Third. Will you, if elected, use your influence to procure women on the free precincts of all boards of employment?

A Portland correspondent of the Portsmouth Chronicle says [illegible] the Democracy of that city will nominate E. K. [illegible] but some such man as Judge Rice of Augusta or Mayor Putnam of Portland. Either of these gentlemen would accept the nomination if proposed to them, but we doubt if any chance of election. That is safe at present, to say the least.

A public dinner was tendered Gen. De Rahm in this city previous to his departure for Cuba in reply to the [illegible] of Colonel Duncan immediate relief from the Captain General of that Island.

The Portland Light Infantry sailed from Liverpool for the country the past week.

The Machias Republican states Hon. Ebenezer Knowlton of Montville, to be J. W. Knowlton. Ebenezer Knowlton is a representative, we believe.

Political and Personal.

A letter from Tokio says that it now appears to be the policy of the Democrats who ran against [illegible] to put no candidate in the field, but on the contrary to support whichever of the Republican wings offers the best chance for success.

General Ewing, the Democratic politician, was so shrewd as to permit himself to be run by the Republicans for Governor of Ohio, that was expected from the anti-pending between him and the notorious Perry Belmont, and to secure from their quarrel about the division of the spoils gained in their joint ballot. The money must be dropped with a tremble by order of the Court. An [illegible] was elected over the regular nominee of General Ewing.

The Democratic papers say that the Tennessee question will be managed. The Knoxville Whig, who are now preparing that both Stokes and Senter will be voted for by both wings. The Whig [illegible] to the idea that it could be done, but of the practicability of this plan.

It is said that commissary on Chief Justice Chase's decision relating to the Fourteenth Amendment, that a prominent Virginia Democrat [illegible] every man who has voted against the Wilson bill against the whole Constitution. His reason for this last recommendation are that he prefers compulsory rule of General Canby to the government which the Constitution will provide, and he thinks that if we reject it, the Supreme Court will ultimately set us free from the irresistible logic of the Chief Justice's decisions to no other conclusion.

It is now understood that Gen. Grant will [illegible] the Peace Jubilee. In view of this the Boston Encampment of Knights Templars Commander N. P. Banks, who are to visit Halifax on the 24th, will [illegible] the Grand Encampment from the "City of Brotherly Love" to the Hub of the Universe."

FROM WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON

Yesterday, for the first time in the history of the Washington Navy Yard, colored men commenced work, and upon an equal footing with white men. They were formerly slaves, and were employed in the Union service during the war.

CABLE NEWS.

LONDON, June 5. The meeting of the Conservative peers was held yesterday, and determined what course should be pursued to-day in regard to the bill for the disestablishment of the Irish Church.

Lord Cairns urged that opposition to the bill on its second reading should be finally rejected. He said the leaders of the party did not wish to dictate, but were anxious that the judgment of the peers should remain unfettered. He said as the country had never pronounced upon the present bill and as the feeling in the House of Lords was so opposed to it, it was his duty, consistent and best consulting the circumstances, would be to reject it on second reading.

Lord Salisbury deprecated the course recommended by Lord Cairns. The course which would follow the rejection of the bill would be most disastrous to the House. It would do nothing to save the Irish Church. It would be better to accept the bill unmodified in Committee, than to create a state of feeling and excitement.

Lord Carnarvon supported the views of Lord Salisbury. He said the Chancellor of the Exchequer would not ask terms for the Irish Church, but would have the opportunity of choosing them.

Lord Derby was in favor of the second reading of the bill, contending that the peers should enter no one from doing so.

The majority of the Lords approved the views of Lord Derby, and agreed that the second reading of the bill should be opposed. It is said that there will be a majority of eight or ten against the Irish Church bill on its second reading in the House of Lords.

DUBLIN, June 6. An immense meeting of persons opposed to the Church bill, has been held in this city. Nearly twelve thousand persons were present. A protest against the bill was adopted and will be sent to the House of Lords.

LONDON, June 6. Some arrests have been made in Paris within the past few days in consequence of the recent discovery by the police of a new conspiracy. The details of the affair are as yet unknown.

BERLIN, June 6. The North German Parliament have adopted the federal budget. The annual revenue and expenditure of the Confederation are about $60,000,000, estimated in the budget at 6,000 thalers each.

MADRID, June 6. The direct trade with Spanish colonies have been reduced one half and a small export duty on grain and tobacco has been imposed.

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt 6. A traveller has reached here from the interior and reports that Gordinham and his family have been murdered by the natives in Abyssinia.

The English Press on the Alabama Question

NEW YORK, June 6.

The Herald has a special cable dispatch from London 5th inst., giving a review of the English papers in reference to Clarendon's review of the Alabama correspondence published.

The London Standard, (Tory) after lauding America for shiftiness, arrogance, greed, says, no English Minister would make an explanation so humiliating as Lord Clarendon uttered the night before in the House of Lord. However conscious of perfect sincerity of his motive and line of conduct it was no less than humiliating to be obliged to front in the coolness of phrases of diplomacy, with a country that has acted as the United States has acted in the Alabama case.

The London Telegraph (Minister organ) says: "From what transpired in the House of Lords last night, Mr. Mill will ascertain what hopes there are for negotiations, and he will see that the spirit of Englishmen, the country has shown enough. What he may solicit will be found in the articles of the convention, and what it is hoped he can find in Senator Sumner's speech."

The Telegraph farther says that the treaty will never put a troublesome press in the new American Minister's way. The completion of this difficult task is what England is always ready to celebrate with a feeling and excitement.

Lord Carnarvon supported the views of Lord Salisbury. He said the Chancellor of the Exchequer would not ask terms for the Irish Church, but would have the opportunity of choosing them.

Lord Derby was in favor of the second reading of the bill, contending that the peers should enter no one from doing so.

The Insurrection in Cuba

NEW YORK, June 6.

The Herald has a special dispatch from Havana, June 4th, via Key West:

The programme of the volunteers remains quiet until the arrival of Count Catalino de Rods, who will assume command, and then await events.

The Spanish Admiral strongly objects to the action of the volunteers in deposing Gen. Dulce, but as he finally acquiesced he will remain a passive spectator of whatever they may do before the arrival of Gen. Rodas.

HAVANA, June 4, via Key West, June 5.

The volunteers have removed the governors of Cardenas and Caleo, and in place to establish a triumvirate, composed of prominent Spaniards to govern the island till the Home Government is settled. This will probably give Count Valmaseda the command of the field.

The Governor of Havana and the Archbishop resigned.

Forty officials and a bishop of Cuba accompany Gen. Dulce to Spain.

General Tapman is expected to return soon.

Indian Affairs

LEAVENWORTH, June 5.

The Times and Conservative has a special dispatch from Ellsworth, which says that General Mile's couriers have arrived from Salina and report that two additional bodies were found, making 13 killed. The Indians are devastating the settlements on the Solomon and Republican rivers.

Adjutant General Moonhouse leaves tonight for the Republican river with 200 scouts recruited here. He received dispatches today notifying him that the Indians had been in the vicinity of White Rock and Lake Sibley all the week in large numbers, killing and destroying everything.

Maj. Cox, of the 10th Cavalry has arrived from Camp Supply. He reports all the Arapahoes and 400 Cheyennes at that place hungry and out of ammunition.

Col. Nelson, the Superintendent, left here with a stock of provisions and goods for their benefit.

The same paper has news that three Indians in Jewell and Mitchell counties, in Northwestern Kansas, have been driven into Republican and Washington counties and that twenty persons were killed. Mr. Winch, Peck, an old citizen, was killed while crossing the Republican river.

There is a famine among the settlers in that part of the State.

Destruction of the Fourteenth Amendment.

A carnest protest against the action of Chief Justice Chase in regard to the operation of the fourteenth amendment of the Constitution public attention has been called.

And yet it may rise into importance. The main facts are simple. Shaffey, of the State of Virginia, was sentenced to hang for the murder of a negro. The Judge who passed the sentence was one of those who came within the third section of the fourteenth Amendment, which declares that no one shall hold any office under the United States or under any State who, having previously taken an oath to support the Constitution, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion" against the United States. The question then, was, since Judge Underwood is clearly ineligible, whether he was removed by the operation of the fourteenth amendment. The District Judge, who tried the case, decided that he was not; however, came up before the Supreme Court, Chief Justice Chase presiding, and a division of the District Court, and the question of the Amendment was raised. If the last section enacting that Congress shall have the power to enforce the provisions of the article by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this section in question, and necessary "inconvenient" in Virginia, where Chief Justice Chase presided, and Judge Shaffey out of office. It is said, however, to give rise to much discussion in Congress, for instance, whether there is any particular efficacy in the section which requires Congress to enforce the amendment by appropriate legislation, because it is a thing that is in the Constitution itself, if it needs it, by Congress.

[illegible] of this opinion was not given in the papers at the time, so that it can be said to perfectly represent the views taken by the Chief Justice. It is stated, however, to give rise to much discussion in Senator [illegible] speech.

Gen. Dodge, when he arrives, will find a new complication which will try all his energy and resources.

When the English people read the record of what was caused by the Fenian attempt to rescue the Clerkenwell prisoners, they can have no pleasant for the indignation against the society which pervaded all classes of parties in Great Britain. The total number of persons killed outright or who have died of their injuries is thirty-seven, of whom twenty were children. One hundred and twenty others were wounded, fifteen of them being maimed for life. The result is as serious a loss of life and limb as often takes place in battle, and it would be difficult to imagine a more cowardly or more stupid piece of strategy than that which prompted this plot. The British Government has punished but one of the authors of this fiendish conspiracy, and he is deemed a martyr by those very unreasonable persons who look upon all acts of treason if they are only committed by Irishmen. Some authorities assert that the house never becomes distasteful to those who have once been its guests. To the State wherein they reside they will make or enforce any law, bridge the privileges of citizens of the United States, State deprive any person of property without due process of law, or deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

[illegible] fortune of Judge Chase that his great career should subject him [illegible] of declining, in this Republic, to keep himself before the [illegible] as a censor of the record [illegible] the most available conservative [illegible] for the Presidency in 1872. A [illegible] has taken many, clear [illegible] going, but then the public must [illegible] distrust his political bias [illegible] to thank.

Boston Journal.

CUBAN DEVELOPMENTS. A second [illegible] is said to have broken out in Cuba [illegible] have been carried to the length [illegible] the resignation of the Captain General. This time, however, the [illegible] years' lease in the interest of Spain [illegible] so much indulgence to the Cubans [illegible]. A prominent officer, accused of having money to allow the rebels to escape, has been hunted [illegible] the Spanish volunteers, and as Gen. [illegible] was believed to be conniving [illegible] was shot, the enmity of the volunteers [illegible] against him also, by having [illegible] to caste for his ineffectiveness [illegible] the rebellion. The volunteers, therefore, are now sole masters of the island, so far as the mastery belongs to Spain. To what degree this singular development [illegible] to loyalty and to recklessness, remains [illegible] Gen. De Roda, when he arrives, will find a new complication which will try all his energy and resources.

LOCAL AND MAINE ITEMS.

—Yesterday was a charming day.

—The European & North American Railroad being completed to Passadumkeag, we are informed that the City Government intend going up this morning on a tour of inspection to that point.

—The Bangor and Piscataquis Slate Company reported in this city by C. B. Abbott, Esq., have removed their office from the tower to the upper steamboat wharf, where they have erected a large storehouse.

—Mr. Stephen Coney, having purchased the Young Lands, which stands on the high ground opposite the steamboat wharf, has excavated the ground beneath the building, and is putting a substantial stone [illegible].

—Bethel was well represented in this city yesterday by the excursionists who were on their return home from their trip over the Maine Central road.

—Sucker fishing has given place to eel fishing in the Kenduskeag, large numbers of them wriggling being taken in the vicinity of Norumbega Market.

—We are informed that the question of the lease of the Bolfast & Moose Head Lake Railroad will be practically settled to-night, when the City Government, which controls a majority of the stock, will instruct their representative how to vote upon the subject. A good deal of interest is manifested in the matter, there being a strong rivalry between the Maine Central and Portland & Kennebec Railroads.

—Union Square is to have a row of trees set out there and it and is being enclosed with a plain picket fence. The grounds of the Bangor House adjoining have been graded up, and the embankments are being, thereby, adding very much to the appearance of that vicinity.

—We understand that next week the Grand Trunk road will run an express train from Portland to Danville Junction to connect with the Maine Central. An arrangement is also being made by the Maine Central so that our mail will arrive here at half past seven.

—By reference to advertisement it will be seen that Sandford's Line of Steamers commences to-day the new arrangement running three trips each way per week. The Cambridge and Katahdin are both on the route, in excellent condition, and officered as substantially as last year. This arrangement accommodates a large amount of business between Bangor and Boston.

—Among the Directors of the Piscataquis Railroad is Stanley T. Pullen, of Foxcroft, whose name was omitted by the compositor in our report of Saturday.

BANGOR PRODUCE MARKET. Saturday, June 6. The supply of hay still keeps the price the same that it has been so long quoted, the best loose selling at from $14 to 16 per ton, and inferior qualities from 10 to 13; loose straw is worth from 10 to 11, which is a high price, but not much brought in; oats are worth from 80 to 85 cents; potatoes are rather very plenty, or there are not consumers enough—they have come in quite free this week, and the prices paid have taken the range of from 80 to 40 cents per bushel; yellow-eyed beans 2.75 to 3.00, and extra pea beans from 3.25 to 3.50; butter is coming in plenty and soft, and selling from 26 to 28 cents, according to the condition and quality of the article; eggs 22 cents. The above prices are paid in our streets for produce.

The Boston market report quotes Jackson potatoes plenty at 55 cents, and eggs dull at 22 cents for Eastern, and 20 to 21 for Western—Eastern and Cape eggs are always selling the highest.

—Rehearsal of Jubilee Choruses this evening in Concert Hall, at 8 o'clock. Additional musicians to be telegraphed, comprised in an appendix of 24 pages. It is important that all the members should be present, and promptly at the hour.

—Annual meeting of the Penobscot Conference to-morrow, at Orrtown. Return tickets by the E. & N. A. Railway. Cars leave at 8.15 and 11.35 A. M.

—In the celebrated breach of promise suit, brought by Mrs. Lawrence against Draper, Cooke, of Gardiner, wherein the jury rendered a verdict of $500 for the plaintiff in October, 1867, the full court has just rendered an opinion sustaining the exceptions taken by the defendant, and ordered a new trial.

—In the Lewiston Journal, one finds advertised that his wife has left his bed and board. She was not probably over fond of that savory cuisine.

REVERE HOUSE, BOWDOIN SQUARE, Boston, took the lead of American hotels for many years, and its marked success induced the erection of large hotels in several enterprising cities. It will be seen by reference to our advertising columns that the Revere has just been thoroughly remodelled and newly furnished, so that it now contains all modern conveniences and luxuries. It is situated near to business, and within a short distance from most places of interest in the "Hub." Its table is unsurpassed in the country, and its proprietors are noted for their attention to the comfort of their guests. We advise our friends to give the Revere a trial when they next visit Boston.

FATAL ACCIDENT. Mr. Levi Young writes the Somerset Reporter that a sad accident happened in Starks last Monday. Mrs. Gregson, widow of Major L. Gregson, late of this town, aged about 82 years, was burnt in a shocking manner by her wearing apparel taking fire. She died May 27th. Her son's wife with whom she lived was burned considerably in trying to extinguish the mother from the flame.

WATERVILLE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION. We learn from the Mail that at the annual meeting, held at the rooms of the Association on Monday evening, last, the following officers were chosen—

President—T. F. White.

Vice Presidents—D. R. Wing, W. H. Mayo, R. H. Morgan, L. T. Boothby, W. H. Carter.

Recording and Corresponding Secretary, E. R. Drummond.

Treasurer and Librarian—O. F. Gardner.

Directors—E. L. Towne, Edmund Strange, G. S. Palmer, H. R. Richardson, Lenal Pratt.

These constitute the Executive Committee of the Association.

NEW RAILS. The Kennebec Reporter says that since the frost left the ground, the Portland and Kennebec Railroad has laid over 500 tons of the continuous rail, and designs to lay 600 tons additional before it can be received from the rolling mills. This kind of rail is a very marked improvement over the old kind, adding greatly to the ease and pleasure of traveling.

FIRST MATCH GAME OF THE SEASON.—A match game between the Active and Tip B. B. Clubs resulted in a victory for the Actives. Score 41 to 28. Umpire, A. Marsh. Scorers—Follett (Active), Bishop (Tip).

KNEE DISLOCATED. The Biddeford Journal says Mr. Al. Clark, of that place while turning his team on Monday, became entangled home way in the traces, and had his knee dislocated. This is a rare occurrence. Some authorities assert that the knee never becomes dislocated.

THE ACCIDENT TO RIVER DRIVERS.—From the Lewiston Journal we learn some further particulars of the accident to river-drivers last Monday. Dunn's drive reached the head of Rumford Falls, and worked along with success and safety until half-past eleven o'clock Tuesday A. M. A jam of logs had formed upon a rock near the axe factory dam, and nearer the Peru than the Rumford side of the river, and by continual accessions had reached the Peru side, forming a wing jam. During the early part of the forenoon a considerable part of the men had worked on this jam, and made an opening through the center of it, leaving when it broke through, five men on the rock where the jam began to form, viz—Edward Grace, Charles Fling, "Jack" Leary, John Mayhew, and C. H. Hinkley. Four men started from the Peru store with a boat to take off these men on the rock, viz—Calvin Roberts and, Asa Spencer, boatmen, and Michael Gibbons and Kenneth McLean, midshipmen. These dropped down in the rapid water stern first on the rock, when the five on the rock got in the boat. While these were getting in the boat swung round and the current (outside) caught the bow and in a second the boat was past management. Mr. Grace, seeing the danger, cried "Oh God I jump." He jumped for the rock that the boat had left, but failing to reach it, was forced with great velocity against another rock some forty feet below, and, as is supposed, instantly killed. Leary, Gibbons, and Fling followed, and in rushing pushed the stern man out, leaving Messrs. Spencer, McLean, Hinckley and Mayhew in the boat, where one would not suppose a boat could not live a moment, much less reach the shore before going over the second falls. Of those who left the boat, only Leary and Roberts were saved. They passed partially back of the rock from which the boat had just left, and miraculously reached it. Mr. Leary could not swim. Messrs. Grace, Fling and Gibbons were drowned, and at this time have not been found and probably will not be for some days. The boat had only one oar left in it, and with that and the paddles the four managed, how can hardly be imagined, to reach the Rumford side of the river, some thirty rods from the rock. Thirty rods further sailing would certainly have carried them to a watery grave.

—The Dover Observer complains of nightly depredations by the roughs in that usually quiet town. Tuesday night a number of boys tore up the old hay scales, near the Bolthon House, and strewed the fragments about the street, and placed a huge grapple in front of Mr. Dearborn's store. It calls loudly for a police force.

GUILFORD SILVER ORE. The Dover Observer says: "Something like five or six tons of silver ore have passed our office within a few days en route for New York for smelting, from the Guilford mines. We understand twenty tons or more have been taken out, and will be soon to its way to its place of destination—New York."

C. R. McFadden of Waterville, has sold his mare "Lady Wilkins" to Gideon Wells, for a good, round price—which report sets but a single figure, and that a very small one, short of a thousand, says the Mail.

There is to be a grand Masonic Celebration at Bryant's Pond, July 5th. Hon Josiah H. Drummond, of Portland, will deliver the oration.

—Mr. Alfred Brooks, of South Eliot, broke one of his legs in two places, on Wednesday, while using a harrow. The oxen started when he was adjusting the harrow, which caught him, threw him down, and inflicted the injury, says the Biddeford Journal.

—Gov. Chamberlain has accepted the invitation of the Portland Light Infantry to join them in celebrating their anniversary today. The hero of Little Round Top will hold it a red-hot engagement, think the Portland Advertiser.

BURIALS are to be in order of the day: The first one is the interring of the stores of Myrick, Merchant, Dingley, Bros. and Tibbetts & Langley, in Gardiner, each through the coal shute, and from thence to the ice room, either by the cellar door, or scuttle, except at Tibbetts & Langley's, where they were unable to get farther than the door, and scuttle being secondly inserted, consequently they succumbed to ice. At each of the other places the burglars got about five dollars in copper cents and up.

—The old bridge across the Sebec river, in Milo village, has been raised by a jam of logs of late, and the town has voted to build a good and substantial covered bridge in its place, to be put on in two weeks.

—The Lewiston Journal learns that Mr. Johnson's boy, of Minot, five years old, was run over by a loaded team on the Shaw hill, the wheel hitting his head so as to take the scalp nearly half off on one side, leaving the bone bare. The wound was dressed and sewed up at once, and will do well.

—Wm. Brown, of Waterville, a lad of some 10 or 12 years, broke his leg Thursday, while playing with a velocipede, says the Mail.

IN ANTICIPATION IS BLISS. A correspondent of the Lewiston Journal says that some children on their way to school in Dexter, Friday morning, discovered the body of a full grown male child in the pond near the "Brick Mill," evidently having been in the water but a short time. Coroner Wyman was summoned and held an inquest. No verdict had been given, the jury awaiting further developments. Drs. Burleigh and Clough made an examination, and gave their opinion that it came to its death by manipulation or drowning soon after birth. The town authorities have the matter in hand, and it is hoped that the inhuman parent may be found and made to suffer the full penalty of the law.

—Sylvester G. Closson escaped from the New Hampshire State Prison about 3 o'clock Friday morning while engaged in digging vaults, the guard in the darkness mistaking him for another person. He is over fifty years of age, and two years to serve, came from Dixfield, Me., and was committed for horse-stealing. He has served three or four terms in other prisons and now has two indictments hanging over him.

—The New England Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church was begun Thursday at the African M. E. Chapel on Mountfort street, Portland. This Conference includes all the New England States and the British Provinces, and embraces eleven churches and stations. The business of the Conference was begun with religious exercises, conducted by Bishop Jabez Campbell, of Philadelphia, the presiding officer.

—The Governor and Council Friday appointed and confirmed Ezra S. Pettingill of Pembroke, Trustee of the Insane Asylum, and Parker P. Burleigh, of Limerick, Wm. W. Thomas, Jr., of Portland, and Wm. Small of Fort Fairfield, Commissioners on the Settlement of Public Lands.

THE ROBBERIES AT GARDINER, ME.—The rodent robberies in Gardiner, it has been ascertained, were committed by boys, whose cases have been suspended by the magistrate for decision. The ringleaders will probably be sent to the Reform School during their minority.

THE FUTURE OF MAINE. The New York Commercial Advertiser says: "There is undoubtedly a great future for Maine; and it would not be surprising if she should exhibit some of those marvellous evidences of growth heretofore confined to our Western States."

SMALL POX IN NEW YORK. The Evening Post says the small pox has been raging in New York for three or four weeks, but is now rapidly subsiding under the precautions taken by the Sanitary Department. During the month of May there were 112 cases, of which 10 proved to be fatal. On Tuesday one new case was reported. Physicians were required to report all cases to Superintendent Harris, when cases were quarantined, no person being allowed to enter them room except the doctor and nurse, and every person in the house was vaccinated. The premises were also disinfected with carbolic acid. When all the cases became dangerous sixty new physicians were appointed to carry out these regulations. The last order of Superintendent Harris to the inspectors directs them to make a house-to-house vaccination throughout the entire city—that is, every person, rich and poor, white and black, who does not choose to be vaccinated by their family physician shall be vaccinated by the Board of Health officers.

A BIG HAUL. The New York Sun says that on the arrival of the steamer Java, of the Canard line, of that port on Wednesday, she was boarded by a couple of revenue officers, who, among the passengers found two persons suspected of having fine diamonds in their trunks, and the officers went for them. Examination proved the suspicions to be well grounded, and $11,000 worth of rings, watches, and diamonds changed hands in a twinkling. The two detective officers of the Custom House were equally alert, and captured on the person of a well-dressed Jew, on the vessel, $8,000 worth of jewelry. There was weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth and stern oath on board the Java.

Oregon mourned his white robe of snow. It was predicted that the rivers would be low—lumber could not be floated down, and navigation would be impossible. These fears have been justified, and there is hardly any water in the river. But even in this state of affairs there is consolation. One of the Oregon papers calls attention to the fact that river mining will be easier and more profitable than for many years past. It is a long time since such diggings were practicable, and the accumulation of years is to be exacted with almost no labor. Sixteen years ago the bars on the Rogue River yielded from ten to twenty dollars a day with a single rocker. This kind of gold seeking is the simplest, easiest, and prosecuted with the least outlay for machinery of any process, but the opportunities seldom occur.

THE CHEAP FREIGHT MOVEMENT. The Chicago Post says that the Committee appointed by the late Chicago Convention of Boards of Trade of the lake cities, have already done enough to justify the statement that cheap transportation of grain will be speedily secured. They have visited the lines, and have conferred with railway managers, the owners of elevators in Chicago and Buffalo, with Gov. Hoffman in New York, the members of the Board of Canals of the Erie Canal, and other persons of influence and power in the matter. The result is an assurance that what we prefer of freight, elevator charges, and canal tolls is necessary to retain the transportation of grain in its present channel, shall be made. The railways most directly interested are impressed with the importance of concentrating the principal grain trade of the Northwest in Chicago, and the necessity of operating to this end. Tariffs have already been reduced on some of the roads. Gov. Hoffman expresses the opinion that the tolls on the Erie canal ought to be and will be, entirely abolished. Other reductions of railway tariffs will follow, so that from all points of the grain-producing Northwest shipments to New York by way of Chicago can be made cheaper than by any other route.

New Canvas! New Costumes! New Properties!!

Opposition Invited. Competition Defied!

Despising the new fangled humbuggery of the age, the Manager does not announce a combination of TEN-NINE, SIX or FOUR CIRCUSES IN ONE; nor imposes upon the public any hybrid Circus and Menagerie, which are invariably found to contain but a weak imitation of either; nor does he deem it expedient to resort to a DAZZLING GLITTERING PARADE—essentially proposes to exhibit a fully developed and intelligent Circus, performance, but superior to any presented by the nondescript traveling exhibitions now in vogue, who simply "keep their word" to the ears, and break it gently to the hopes! In which he is enabled to announce the following list of
